About the Font

LL Prisma is the result of two decades of work involving none less than eight Lineto designers. All of them contributed at various stages to the cheerful adaptation, re-evaluation and expansion of Rudolf Koch's decorative caps-only typeface Prisma (1930). Exactly twenty years after James Goggin first started to explore the potential modularity of Koch's five-line shapes in 2003, we brought together the 23 styles earlier comprised in our Prismaset A (2017) and Prismaset B (2019) in a new super family including 23 fully matching Cyrillic styles designed by Viktoriya Grabowska. As some of the Latin styles were closely related, we decided to group all of them into pairs. In other words: When you now buy 'one style' of LL Prisma, you get a bundle of two Latin and two Cyrillic cuts.

The modular approach to LL Prisma is based on principles of repetition and difference. A number of logical conclusions (or extreme interpretations, if you prefer) were drawn from the many possible connections, subtractions and overlays. The distinct, austere shapes offer surprising formal richness and variety. The mix well with many other typefaces and lend themselves to large-scale use in headlines, packaging, signage and identities. For the 2023 release, all styles were newly kerned, and a number of formal corrections were applied for a more unified appearance. In all of this, highest care was taken to preserve the spirit of Rudolf Koch's extraordinary Prisma typeface, which continues to lend timelessness and aesthetic quality to these new designs.

Design

Designed by James Goggin, Laurenz Brunner, Jonathan Hares, Rafael Koch, Mauro Paolozzi, Cornel Windlin and Arve Båtevik (Latin) as well as Viktoriya Grabowska (Cyrillic). First released by Lineto in 2017. Uses Rudolf Koch's caps-only decorative font Prisma as a starting point. Font engineering and mastering by Alphabet, Berlin.
